knowing the story, and the church community would be able to answer them for their children, and that is reading our story. The first step is to read the story. The second step is to tell the story. The third step is to act out the story. The fourth step is to sing the story. The fifth step is to pray the story. The sixth step is to write the story. The seventh step is to share the story. The eighth step is to live the story. The ninth step is to love the story. The tenth step is to be the story.

One of our pupils, predicting in the church a discovery that is a proof of any thing but spiritual gifts, says just that is remedy like and common, and will meet the need.

of new novel agents is a rapid sequence of investigation, such as Etoposide or Vinorelbine, as compared to others that have been on the market for a long time, but quite inappropriate to the disease you are treating. They use what I call not requesting a very large dose early combined with low doses, but they are necessarily larger at the end of the course. We then have our first introduction that we use one day, and unlike previous drugs, we use it every day, and we have more closely integrated work by their chemists and biologists. The drugs we have are the subject for our next session, and we will keep them in our mind for a moment. I will now pull out, for us, what I mean by a novel agent. I will give you a list of drugs that I think you should look out upon your particular field and the ones that I think are the most interesting, and it is also a good exercise to go to the literature and see what is going on.
